However, That They Are Case Product.

Careful shoppers and the bargain-seek "sharpshooters" along Market row ling "sharpshooters" along Market row. Friday morning received the surprise of the week when they ran across a large quantity of eggs in one of the stalls branded as "strictly fresh" and offered to the public at 13 cents per dozen.

To the bachelor and persons who judge the price of eggs solely by the figures on the restaurant menu, there would be nothing particularly startling or sensational about this announcement. But to the careful housewife it meant a saving of 15 cents per dozen, se fresh eggs are retailling now at 50 cents per dozen. The vender who offered the stupendous "bargain" was busier than a one-armed billposter in a gale of wind for a few minutes supplying customers, who fairly fought with each other to get to the counter. Other merchants along the mart wondered what had caused the commotion, and after making an investigation decided that the merchant in question decided that the merchant in question was either playing truant from the foolish house or else there was some mistepressentation.

State Food and Dairy Inspector Willerd Hansen was attracted to the scene.

State Food and Dairy Inspector Willard Hansen was attracted to the acene, and by way of curiosity took several of the 'fresh' eggs and had them sampled. They were found to be case eggs and the deluding sign was promptly confiscated. The merchant was warned against a repetition of the offense.

Manufacturers are awaiting the opening sale of new heavyweight goods before buying supplies of wool and the market is therefore comparatively quiet. Interest continues, however, and sample lots of territory fleeces, California, Australian and Montevideo wools are moving with full rates. Everything points to continued firmness in values, with renewed activity as soon as the goods market becomes active. Shipments of wool from Boston to January 6, inclusive, were 2,774,510 pounds, against 2,982,780 pounds for the same time last year. The receipts to January 6, inclusive, were 4,450,775, pounds, against 3,525,927 pounds for the same period last year.

Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow winsay:

Not in a half-decade has a year opened with the business outlook so generally auspicious as 1910.

Some of the perplexing issues that contributed to the crisis of 1907 still remain unsolved while the question of high prices has become more acute, but it would seem as if business confidence were not going to permit these things to interfere with the further progress of industry and commerce.

to interfere with the further progress of industry and commerce.

The optimism which usually provails at this season is apparently well supported by economic facts. In the great from and steel trade which is so basic, this spirit of optimism is particularly compleuous. Conditions are not so pronouncedly strong in some other departments, but with favorable agricultural conditions and with no event—political or otherwise—to impair the confidence of business men in the credit structure, there seems to be no reason to doubt a good year.

Advances are made in heavy cotton goods this week, such as duck, tickings, brown sheetings and some other lines Export trade continues quiet with the far east, but there is some scattering trade from miscellaneous ports.
Southern cotton yarn spinners have promulgated a new schedule of yarn prices on a level of 10 per cent higher than current market rates.

The hide market is dull and weak, with transactions light and unimportant. Chicago packers show some disposition to reduce asking rates at the following the foreign hides are caster.

With the exception of a short period in 1882, when swine sold at $9.35 per hundredweight, the $9 hog has not been seen here since the Civil war. Con-tinued intense cold impeding transpor-tation and apparent hesitation of pro-ducers to market their hogs, are the chief causes of the abnormal advance.

ST LOUIS, Jan 1.—One load of hegs was sold at the stockyards here today for $9 a hundredweight. This is the highest price since 1896.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 7.—Hogs again reached a record price when one car-load sold for $5.75 per hundred here to-day. This price has not been reached since 1882.

My special treatment cures "WEAKNESS" in men in a very short time. My cures of this disorder are permanent and lasting. No tonics that temporarily, but thoroughly scientific treatment for the removal of conditions responsible for the functional derangement. "Weakaces" is merely a symptom of inflammation or congestion in the prostate gland, and under my own original local treatment this gland is promptly reduced to its normal state, and com-plete functional activity is the lasting result.
